

BROOKS AVENUE SMALL GROUPS

We realize that many times larger congregations lose the benefits of connectivity that smaller congregations often offer. This is why Brooks Avenue places such a strong emphasis on small groups. The congregation is divided up (largely but not entirely based upon geographical region) into what we call Common Bonds. The second and fourth Sunday nights of every month the congregation assembles in Common Bond gatherings, meeting in living rooms and backyards across the Triangle. The primary focus of our Common Bond ministry is to facilitate growth into the image of Christ. The gatherings are an instrument of spiritual formation as they provide an opportunity for encouragement, teaching, worship, prayer and fellowship in an intimate setting. The map below is intended to provide you with a broad view of how the area is divided and where our groups meet.
